

International Public Notice: The Nature of Israel

By Anna Von Reitz

The name "Israel" has its roots in the distant past, when Jacob the Liar (he obtained his brother's birthright by deceit) was given the name "Israel" instead.

The etymology of the name "Israel" reveals that it means "people of the God Ra" -- the Egyptian Sun God, popularized by Egypt's monotheistic Pharaoh Akhenaten.

Ten (10) of Jacob's sons were "lost" to the worship of the God of the Hebrews and chose to worship Ra and their children followed the religion they'd picked up in Egypt, along with some other practices like worshiping the Golden Calf that came from Egypt's earlier pantheon of gods and goddesses--- instead.

These are the Ten Lost Tribes, but they were not actually physically lost, just spiritually lost in the opinion of the two tribes that continued to worship the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

So the well-spring of all this was Jacob, the Patriarch --- who was later called "Israel" in token of his own conversion to Egyptian monotheism, whether his conversion was sincere or not.

One can never tell with Jacob, a guy who rolled fast and loose and told Big Fat Ones by act and by omission all his life -- like selling the favors of his wife to protect his own interests and omitting the fact that she was his wife.

According to the Biblical Record, Jacob was a charming sleazebag, having little conscience at all. He was mean to his devoted but ugly wife, Leah, who bore him ten sons. He showed so much favoritism to his two sons by her younger sister, that his older sons sold Joseph into slavery.

So that's the background surrounding the use of the name "Israel" to describe the nation formed by Jacob and his ten older sons who all followed after Egyptian monotheism.

According to extensive genetic research investigated by Michael McKibben, the Hebrew lineage that Yehoshua (Jesus) came from was dying out at the time of his birth and no members of the Hebrews -- the Two Tribes left after the Ten Tribes went back to Ra worship -- are alive today.

Those people who practice Judaism today are descendants of the Ten Tribes, that is, Israel, who survived the Diaspora, such as the Sephardic Jews, and a large number of converts to Judaism from Eastern Europe known as the Ashkenazi.

So when the modern nation of Israel calls itself "Israel" they know what they are talking about, but we don't.

By naming their nation "Israel" they are saying, hey, we're what's left of the Ten Lost Tribes -- plus converts. Some of us, a few, are related all the way back to Jacob, that is, to "Israel" and his older sons by Leah --- the converts not so much.... but, not to worry, we accept converts.

This is why not all Jews are exactly equal. You can't expect the lineage of David to rub knickers with wildmen from the Caucasus.

And this is why all the current and immediately past leaders of Israel have changed their names from Polish and Lithuanian and Russian and Hungarian and Baltic States surnames to more "Jewish" and Semitic surnames.

Yitzak Rabin was not a Rabin and Benjamin Netanyahu is not a Netanyahu. Henry Kissinger probably wasn't a Kissinger, either.

This whole business of changing names and identities for political and social advantages or simply to evade detection of who you are and what your motives might be, or even to mark your religious preferences, goes all the way back to Jacob, or Israel, as the context might dictate.

Does this give us cause to pause? It should.

Israel is not what it seems and the men running it are not what they seem to be, either. The Jewish nation is named after a bunch of Egyptian monotheists. Where's that in the Bible?

It's in there, like Ragu Spaghetti sauce, "It's in there!" but you have to look. Joseph's wife, the mother of Ephraim and Manasseh, was the daughter of Potiphar, the Egyptian High Priest.

Do you think she married outside of her religion, or did Joseph follow in his Father's footsteps and go with the flow?

Here is Lord Jacob Rothschild, admitting that his family founded Israel:

Jacob Rothschild is telling the literal truth. He worked it out with the British Government which held a British Military Protectorate over the land involved via the infamous Balfour Declaration which just expired this year.

The Rothschild family bought and paid for the whole country that we call "Israel" today, created it out of money and thin air, while the British, far from protecting the people who were peacefully living in the region prior to their "Protectorate", pandered to the Rothschilds and sliced and diced things up into the miserable mess it is today.

Donald Trump is following along like an orange duckling following a trail of British pawprints and providing "Israel" protection as a new purportedly American State --- the State of Israel, which has a mailing address at Kensington Palace.

They are foisting off "the State of Israel, Incorporated" -- another British Territorial state-of-state, and not an actual State of the Union associated with our country, as an American State, and they are doing this for a reason.

They want an excuse to continue meddling, and now that the Brits can't do that directly, they are bringing in the British Territorial interests to play their game for them.

Let the rest of the world be aware that this has nothing to do with America and everything to do with USA, Inc., a British Crown Corporation.

We are not directing, promoting, agreeing to, or supporting what is going on in Gaza with Netanyahu's proxy government. We are not confused and we don't consider Israel a State of the Union owed our protection, money or blood.

Let them bring in their newly-hired Chinese Mercenaries instead and show the world what they are really made of, who they are, and what their motive is. They can't hide behind us anymore.
