TESTIMONIALS

“CC&D has driven millions of dollars of business to the AEC industry.”—Michael Gifford | AGC Advocacy Director - Former CEO/President, AGC Colorado

“Love the work you and the team at CC&D continue to do. I look forward to receiving and devouring EVERY edition.”—Matt Marshall | Director of Business Development | Otak, Inc.

“A huge thanks to our media sponsor, Colorado Construction & Design, for showing up at events and taking pictures, their showing of support on social media, and allowing AGC pages of content, including my article, to promote awareness and illustrate the powerful value proposition we provide our membership.”—Jeff Barratt | President/CEO, AGC Colorado

“RK places high value on collaboration and industry partnerships. We are extremely grateful for our continued partnership with Colorado Construction & Design magazine, the leading industry publication in the region. Their unwavering commitment to showcasing the latest trends, innovations and achievements in the construction and design sector has had a significant impact on the industry landscape in Colorado. Here’s to many more years of collaboration, growth and shared success!”—RK Industries

“I just wanted to say what a nice job you’re doing publishing the magazine. It’s my favorite industry magazine to read and you guys do an amazing job creating it!”—Jason Gordon | President/CEO, Heartland Acoustics & Interiors

“If you are in the construction industry in Colorado, you must know that Polly Ayres and her team are essential resources for industry connectivity. From the pages of Colorado Construction and Design Magazine to CCD digital posts and social media presence, this team has its finger on the pulse of the Colorado construction industry.”

Partnering with CCD for over a decade has enabled Powers Products to share and receive timely industry news items and expand our marketing reach with online promotion and reposts of Powers Products content to CCDs vast audience. A true partnership!”—Beth Pitkin | Marketing Manager, Powers Products

“Colorado Construction and Design is a widely anticipated and welcomed magazine. It has been, and still is, the magazine of the Colorado Construction industry.”—Dave Little | Former Chief Business Development Officer | The Gallegos Corporation

Award-winning AEC Industry Publication

Colorado Construction & Design (CCD) is Colorado’s most widely read construction news and marketing magazine, read cover to cover by professionals across the AEC industry. For 17 years, advertisers have renewed their campaigns year after year because CCD provides more than visibility; it delivers lasting vitality to their company, their services, and their presence among the decision-makers shaping Colorado’s built environment.

A Proven Construction Marketing Resource

Whether you’re a land developer, general contractor, specialty trades contractor, architect, engineer, product supplier, or service provider, Colorado Construction & Design (CCD) puts your brand in front of the A/E/C industry’s most qualified decision-makers, in a clean uncluttered format, published in print and as an eMag at www.ccdmag.com.

With print and digital distribution, plus an average shared readership of 2–3 readers per copy, each twice-quarterly issue of CCD reaches more than 50,000 A/E/C industry decision-makers statewide, in print and online.

CCD’s carefully managed circulation list gives advertisers direct access to Colorado’s top real estate owners, developers, general contractors, architects, engineers, government officials, and economic development leaders, essentially the people who shape Colorado’s built environment.
