Vericut

Vericut Verification Training Course

DAY 1 -
BASIC NC PROGRAM SIMULATION & VERIFICATION

This course introduces users to the basics of NC program verification. Following an overview of the graphical user interface and functionality, you'll learn how to run a project in Vericut Special emphasis will be placed on how to detect and locate errors in NC programs. This course will also show you how to analyze the cut part by using many of Vericut's built-in analysis features, including the ability to compare the cut stock to the design data.

DAY 2 -
JOB CONFIGURATION

Day two will expand on the first day and shows how to configure a job in Vericut We'll cover configuring multiple setup projects, advanced modeling and assembly techniques, and defining tool shapes. You'll learn how to use coordinate systems, subroutines and work offsets. We'll also teach how to define and position the stock model, and orient the models on the machine.

DAY 3 -
INTEGRATION

Day three builds on what you learned in the first two days and shows how to integrate Vericut in your manufacturing process. Topics include using Vericut-to-CAD/CAM interfaces and how to customize reports for your specific requirements. The afternoon will be a chance for you to delve deeper into Vericut features and will give you an opportunity to work on projects with the instructor's assistance. Some topics may include: setting up and simulating your own files, advanced tool configuration, and NC optimization.

PREREQUISITES FOR WEB TRAINING

• Must have the latest version of Vericut running on your computer prior to class. Licensing concerns can be addressed by emailing support@cgtech.com.
• Computer must be set up to support voice over IP. There will be no "Phone-in" option available for the training.
• All users must use headphones or earbuds for listening in. Open speakers can cause feedback problems when microphones are enabled.
• Two monitors are required. Computer display should be configured to extend applications to either monitor (not duplicated).
