

Hackathon Microsoft Charity Designations

Charity Name	Topics	Description	Geographic Reach	Location
ChickTech	Women/girls tech job careers	ChickTech is dedicated to increasing the number of women and girls pursuing STEM-based careers and retaining women in the technology workforce through national tech programs and events.	USA	Portland, OR
Geeking Out Kids of Color	Youth of color; technology skills; gender and racial equity	GOKiC empowers kids of color with an education in computer science, programming, and robotics, helping unlock their creativity through technology.	Seattle, WA	Seattle, WA
Hack the Hood	Youth of color; tech job training	Hack the Hood introduces under-resourced youth of color to tech careers by hiring and training them to build mobile-responsive websites for small, local businesses.	Bay Area and Northern California	Oakland, CA
The Last Mile	Incarcerated individuals; business and technology training	The Last Mile prepares incarcerated individuals for successful reentry through business and technology training. Provides businesses with custom complex web development services from inmates.	California, USA	San Francisco, CA
Orphaned Starfish Foundation	Vulnerable children; technology, education, job training	Orphaned Starfish Foundation supports vulnerable children through technology, education, and job training. The organization builds and operates modern technology centers at orphanages, homes for abused children, schools, and community centers whose students don't have access to technology.	Argentina, Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama, Peru, Honduras, Bolivia, Chile, Brazil, Nicaragua, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Ecuador, Haiti, Cambodia, Colombia, Ethiopia, Puerto Rico, El Salvador, Uruguay, USA, American Samoa & Nepal	New York, USA
Vue Vixens	Women; tech training	Vue Vixens creates and hosts workshops to teach Vue.js to under-represented people to familiarize women and those who identify as such with Vue.js in a supportive and inclusive environment.	Argentina, Belgium/Netherlands, Brazil, Colombia, Germany/Switzerland, Ireland, Mauritius, Mexico, Nigeria, Peru, Poland, Scotland, Spain, Sweden, USA	Boston, MA

