

Arizona Diaper Facts

Compiled by the National Diaper Bank Network

Diapers are a basic need of all babies, essential to their health and well-being. Keeping infants and toddlers clean, dry, and healthy helps build the strong foundation all children require to reach their full potential. However, 1 in 2 U.S. families with young children struggles to afford clean diapers for their baby.*

Arizona's Babies Need Strong Foundations

Children living in poor and low-income families are at greatest risk of suffering the effects of diaper need because many families can't afford diapers. Currently, government investment in nutrition programs for young children help some, but no such investment is made to provide diapers and other basic needs required to build a strong foundation for healthy growth that enables children to reach their full potential.

Diapers Are Essential to the Well-Being of Arizona's Families

Most child care facilities require parents to provide diapers for their child. Nationally, 25% of parents with diaper need reported that they have missed an average of five days of work or school in the past month due to not having enough diapers to drop children off at child care.*

Early Education Programs Help Arizona's Children

Early Head Start (EHS) provides child and family development services for infants, toddlers, and pregnant women. Center-based EHS programs provide diapers for infants and toddlers. Other federally funded child care assistance programs don't. For families enrolled in the latter, not having access to diapers removes a key building block for strong families. Without diapers a parent cannot go to work, and not working disqualifies a parent from vital child care resources.

Nationwide, 183,286 infants, toddlers, and mothers participate in Early Head Start.

3,022 are from Arizona.

TANF & Diapers in Arizona

An average monthly supply of diapers costs approximately $80. The only federal assistance program that can be used for diapers is TANF, but TANF has to cover many other expenses, including heat, electric and water bills, rent, clothing, transportation, and other basic needs. Little if any money is available to purchase enough diapers to keep a baby clean, dry, and healthy.

In Arizona, there is a 12-month exemption from the work-related activity requirement after the birth of a child for single parent households receiving TANF payments. In this state, families who have a baby while on TANF cannot receive additional funds a larger family would ordinarily receive.

NDBN Working to End Diaper Need

The National Diaper Bank Network works to ensure that every child in the United States has enough diapers to remain clean, dry, and healthy. Diaper banks across the country are working to eliminate diaper need by providing families with diapers.

240+ NDBN-member diaper banks

Serve over 400,000 children monthly

Distribute over 243 million diapers annually

All diaper banks require community support and donations of diapers and dollars to improve the well-being of children and families in local communities.
